

Little has changed in the creation of stained glass pieces in the last thousand years. To some, it may seem that this art form requires attention to detail, and the craftsmanship it demands is all part of that distant past. This is not the case at Kits Glass.

We hand make all our stained glass pieces in the time-honored way. We embrace the past while keeping an eye on the present; celebrating the union of tradition and innovation.

The artists at Kits Glass can create a glass work to enhance any setting. A door or window can come alive with the magic of stained glass and the dynamic relationship that exists between light and glass. From traditional to bold contemporary, Kits Glass offers an unlimited range of design possibilities.

This flowing design on exterior doors creates an unforgettable first impression. The pattern continues to flow on a window.

Various glass types are incorporated with traditional stained glass to create a truly unique piece.

This exquisite french door design is a timeless classic; the perfect union of form and function.

This stylized vine stained glass piece successfully merges the interior with the outdoors.

Elegant visual textures create a stunning sidelite and transom combination.

State of the art modernism abounds in these geometrically patterned glass doors.
